WARD'S

VEGETABLE HAIR OIL.

IN all ages of the world, a beautiful head of hair has been considered the greatest ornament ever bestowed by nature upon the human frame, and indispensably necessary to the perfection of personal beauty. It is a very general complaint of young persons, that their hair is falling off, becoming dry, or unhealthy; this may be owing to the application of improper and injurious oils, or to the entire neglect of the hair. Without proper attention, diseases of the hair will arise, which are often found to occasion thinness, falling off, and frequently total baldness. For these evils, and the necessary inconveniences attending them, Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil will be found in all cases a sure remedy. Before offering this Oil to the public it had been tried in hundreds of cases of baldness, thinness and falling off of the hair, and in every instance its salutary effects have been realized to admiration. It has never failed to produce a new and beautiful growth of hair on heads already bald, and to check that falling off which so often occurs. In cases where it becomes dry and ceases to grow, this Oil will very soon render it healthy, and produce a rapid and beautiful growth, without the least injury to the most delicate head; nor does any falling off follow after using it. That loss of hair, which so often takes place after sickness, may be easily prevented by using this celebrated Oil. In short no Oil has ever been offered to the public that gives such universal satisfaction, and stands the test of experience like Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil.

That the public may rest assured of the salutary effects of this Oil, the following testimonials, from gentlemen of high respectability, are most respectfully submitted:—

Extract of a letter from John A. Wadsworth, M. D., of the city of Providence, R. I. to W. & L. Krumbhaar & Co. of Philadelphia.

Gentlemen: Dr. Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil has gained great repute with us, having restored Hair on heads that have been bald for years, and I have no doubt it will give satisfaction wherever it may be introduced.

Very respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

Messrs. STANLEY & Co., of Baltimore, in writing to Mr. HUNTON, Druggist, in Washington City, say, 'That Letters to them from Druggists in Boston, describe Ward's Hair Oil as being highly approved of there, and selling with astonishing rapidity.

Extract of a letter from Harvey Seymour, Druggist, Hartford, Ct., to the Proprietor, dated Hartford, Sept. 14, 1832.

Dear Sir: I find your Hair Oil a valuable article; I was so unfortunate as to lose the Hair from the top of my head, and, from the use of about half a bottle, I find it starting out anew.

HARVEY SEYMOUR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Oil, you were good enough to put into my hands when I was in Lowell, has produced the most wonderful effects on my Hair that I ever witnessed. You recollect when I called on you, my Hair had fallen very much, and I was quite bald; I have now a beautiful head of Hair, coming on very rapidly. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for the benefit the Oil has afforded me. A number of my friends are very anxious to obtain some of the Oil, and I wish you to send me one dozen bottles of the largest size immediately.

Yours, respectfully,
C. WOOD, M. D.

Extract of a letter from Dr. John A. Wadsworth, of Providence, to the Proprietor.

Esteemed Friend: Your Hair Oil is attended with very promising effects. One of our most respectable citizens, who had been bald for ten years, with a skin as smooth and free from hair as the palm of his hand, has been using the Oil, and fine hair is now coming out on every part of the previously bald scalp.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1832.

I certify that about fifteen years ago, my hair began to fall off, and in a few years became so thin that I found it a source of great inconvenience. On seeing Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil advertised in several New York papers, and highly recommended by two medical gentlemen, with whom I was acquainted, I was induced to make trial of it. When I commenced the use of it, I very much doubted its efficacy in my case, having been bald so many years. But I had not tried it long, before I found it to possess the properties which had been attributed to it. I have now as good and healthy a head of hair as I had twenty five years ago. I can cheerfully recommend it to others who have had the misfortune to lose their hair.

G. W. CUNNINGHAM.

BOSTON, Nov 3, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Sir: A friend of mine had a bottle of your Hair Oil put into his hand, and using it a short time, the hair began to grow on his head, which was before bald, and he had tried many other remedies in vain.

Yours, respectfully,
C. E. ALLEN.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 8, 1833.

PITTSBURGH AND THE FEVER AND AGUE.—We publish a short communication, in reply to the remarks which we made upon the existence of Ague in Pittsburgh.—We have entire confidence in the statement of our correspondent, that cases of Ague have originated here, within the limits of the city. We must add, however, that we would not have been more surprised had he said that cases of plague had originated here. Our correspondent, we know, has every means of correct information, and we have not the slightest doubt of the truth of his statements.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE MONONGAHELA.—We wish, once more, to call the attention of the citizens of Pittsburgh to this interesting subject. The citizens of Greene, Fayette, and Washington counties, in this state, and of Monongalia county, in Virginia, are in motion. In three of these counties at least, delegates have been appointed to attend the Convention, and no doubt will be in the fourth. Allegheny county, and Pittsburgh, are as much interested in the improvement of the Monongahela as any other part of the country. Why then not unite with our fellow citizens up the river, in making a united effort to obtain from Congress, at its next Session, an appropriation for the work. Major Howard, a civil engineer of the U. S. has made an accurate survey, and has reported that the river may be made navigable, at all times, from Pittsburgh to Brownsville, a distance of fifty two miles, for steam boats of one hundred tons, for $243,286.

If this improvement were once completed, a very large amount of the business of Wheeling would, at once, be transferred to Brownsville. Thus placing the head of navigation on the National Road, above us, and in our own state. The large amounts of merchandise and produce transported along the National Road, would no longer pass by land twenty five miles south of us, but would arrive at our doors, bringing with it the owners, as purchasers of our manufactures. In addition to this, vast quantities of the produce of the country along the Monongahela, instead of following the National Road to a market, would find their way along the Pennsylvania Canal from Pittsburgh.

We do hope that our enterprising fellow citizens will arouse themselves in time to send delegates to the Convention about to assemble at Greensboro, Greene county.

Calumnies against Washington.—Our readers, we discover, were very generally surprised at the extract which we published, from Bache's paper, on Monday last. Although many of our more elderly citizens recollected that such a publication was made,—although some of them even recollected some sentences, and although one person recollected the excitement which its appearance produced, yet none that we have conversed with, were fully impressed with the enormity and grossness of the libel.—Many of the younger men among us were utterly astonished.

Believing that many other matters, connected with the latter years of Washington's administration, would be interesting to our readers, and afford a valuable lesson to all parties, by showing the extremities to which party excitement may drive politicians, we have concluded to fill a column of our paper with an account of another calumny, and its refutation; and we will, perhaps, hereafter, give an account of the charge of assassination which was also made against Washington in Bache's paper. The following extract is from the 5th volume of Chief Justice Marshall's Life of Washington, page 675–6.

"Of the numerous misrepresentations and fabrications which, with unwearied industry, were pressed upon the public in order to withdraw the confidence of the nation from its chief, no one marked more strongly the depravity of that principle which justifies the means by the end, than the republication of certain forged letters, purporting to have been written by general Washington in the year 1776.

"These letters had been originally published in the year 1777, and in them were interspersed, with domestic occurrences which might give them the semblance of verity, certain political sentiments favorable to Britain in the then existing contest.

"But the original fabricator of these papers missed his aim. It was necessary to assign the manner in which the possession of them was acquired: and in executing this part of his task, circumstances were stated so notoriously untrue, that, at the time, the meditated imposition deceived no person.

"In the indefatigable research for testimony which might countenance the charge that the executive was unfriendly to France and under the influence of Britain, these letters were drawn from the oblivion into which they had sunk, it had been supposed forever, and were republished as genuine. The silence with which the president treated this as well as every other calumny, was construed into an acknowledgment of its truth; and the malignant commentators on this spurious text, would not admit the possibility of its being apocryphal."

This calumny was permitted to pass unnoticed until the 4th of March, 1797, the day on which he retired from office. On that day he addressed a letter to the Secretary of State, from which we make the following extracts.—The whole letter may be seen in Marshall's Life of Washington, vol. 5, pages 728–9.

"'At the conclusion of my public employments, I have thought it expedient to notice the publication of certain forged letters which first appeared in the year 1777, and were obtruded upon the public as mine. They are said by the editor to have been found in a small portmanteau that I had left in the care of a mulatto servant named Billy, who, it is pretended, was taken prisoner at Fort Lee, in 1776. The period when these letters were first printed will be recollected, and what were the impressions they were intended to produce on the public mind. It was then supposed to be of some consequence to strike at the integrity of the motives of the American commander in chief, and to paint his inclinations as at variance with his professions and his duty—another crisis in the affairs of America having occurred, the same weapon was resorted to, to wound my character and deceive the people."

"'At the time when these letters first appeared, it was notorious to the army immediately under my command, and particularly to the gentlemen attached to my person, that my mulatto man Billy had never been one moment in the power of the enemy. It is also a fact that no part of my baggage, or any of my attendants were captured during the whole course of the war. These well known facts made it unnecessary, during the war, to call the public attention to the forgery by any express declaration of mine; and a firm reliance on my fellow citizens, and the abundant proofs they gave of their confidence in me, rendered it alike unnecessary to take any formal notice of the revival of the imposition, during my civil administration. But as I cannot know how soon a *more serious event may succeed to that which will this day take place, I have thought it a duty that I owed to myself, to my country, and to truth, now to detail the circumstances above recited, and to add my solemn declaration that the letters herein described are a base forgery, and that I never saw or heard of them until they appeared in print. The present letter I commit to your care, and desire it may be deposited in the office of the department of state as a testimony of the truth to the present generation and to posterity. Accept, &c. &c."

*Death.

FIRE.—The Black Horse Tavern, situated on the Pittsburgh and Greensburgh Turnpike Road, about four miles from this city, was burned down last night. We have not learned exactly how it originated, except that it was accidental. The loss is said to be about $3,000.—We were pleased with the remark of the proprietor—"I never liked the house any how. I will now put up a tavern worthy of the stand, and in which travelers and visitors, with their families, may be properly accommodated."

For the Gazette.

MR. CRAIG—In your Daily Paper, of the 2d inst., you republished, from S. Jones' Directory, for 1826, some observations of Dr. W. H. Denny, on the salubrity of this city. You adverted to their similarity with the views entertained at present on the efficacy of our coal smoke, in resisting the influence of miasm, and spread of pestilence, &c.—You remarked that the Doctor, when speaking of the instances of remittent fevers, in this place, "would have expressed the truth with more precision, if he had said that no case of ague and fever had ever originated in this city."—It was, doubtless, because he wished to express the truth with precision, that the Doctor qualified his remark in the way he did. He must have known that, in 1823, several cases of ague and fever originated in the bounds of the city—three of them in one family. In the same year, there were 6 or 7 "native cases," on the west side of the Allegheny. Some few cases originate on that side every year; but as the population increases, and improvements are made, the ague is disappearing, in Allegheny town. A few "original cases" have appeared at O'Hara's Glass Works, and more recently, in Bayards town. It is a fact worth remarking, that stagnant pools, which have been the sole cause of the disease in the suburbs, have not had the same effect in the city. The old inhabitants remember the ponds on the verge of the King's orchard. They were covered every fall with a green scum, but were not known to produce the ague: what peculiar local cause existed in 1823 to produce the cases mentioned is not remembered. M. D.

PITTSBURGH, August 7, 1833.

The undersigned, engaged in manufacturing and mercantile pursuits, in the City of Pittsburgh and vicinity, have noticed, with extreme regret, a publication in one of our newspapers, entitled "Hard Times," which mentions information of "failures among our heaviest business men." Although the intention of the publication may have been praiseworthy, its construction abroad may be of the most dangerous tendency to our credit as individuals and a community. We therefore feel ourselves called upon to repel all imputations which may affect us as men of business.

We assure the public at large, East and West, that at no period within our knowledge, has the character of our City deserved to stand higher for solid capital, for mercantile punctuality and integrity in the engagements of its traders. We protest against the conclusions drawn from one single failure, and against involving the credit of others in this individual misfortune.

LATE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

FROM RUSSIA AND TURKEY DIRECT.

By the brig Henry, Captain Russell, which arrived at the port of New York on Friday evening, direct from Constantinople, we have advices from that city, says the Commercial Advertiser, to the 26th of May. It is not so late, by two days, as that received by the Roscoe, via England—nevertheless, as it gives a new version of Turkish affairs, and is brief withal, we give it place. We have very little doubt that the Russians will protract, as long as possible, their departure, in the hope of finding some pretence, in the current of events, for placing the paw of the Northern Bear effectually and forever upon the stomach of the Musselman. On the whole, we place more reliance upon this, than upon the previous account we received—for it contains a higher degree of intrinsic probability.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 26th May.

The Russian fleet of about 20 sail of vessels of war was lying at Deay Byukdery, and the Russian army of 12,000 strong, on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus—6,000 more Russians were daily expected. The Egyptian army lay within three days' march of Constantinople, and now no prospect of peace. The Turks are much opposed to the Russian soldiers manifesting a preference for the Egyptians.

The Henry left Odessa on the 30th of April, and has brought, for cargo, to this western granary of the world, six thousand bushels of barley! This seems to be bringing coals to New Castle.

Captain Russell describes the frigate which the late esteemed and lamented Mr. Eckford commenced at Constantinople, as a most splendid specimen of naval architecture, and nearly ready to launch. The following are her dimensions:—Length on gun deck 220 feet; extreme breadth 53 1-2; depth from base to top of gun deck beam 27 feet. Weight of metal—gun deck 36 long 42's, spar deck 38 medium 42's.

The news via England was as follows:—

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 28.

(By Express.)

Ibrahim Pacha has really commenced his retreat, and preparations are making in the Russian camp which indicate the speedy withdrawal of the troops. The official news that the Egyptian army had actually commenced its retreat arrived yesterday. The Reis Effendi immediately communicated it to the Foreign Ambassadors, and Count Orloff repeated his declaration, that the Russian army should retire as soon as he was certain that the Arabs really had returned, or only made a pretended retrograde movement. A Russian Officer, of the General Staff, has, therefore, been dispatched to Koniah, to learn the real intention of Ibrahim, and to be sure that he does not pretend to retreat to give the anti Russian party a pretext to demand the retreat of the Russian auxiliaries, which that party eagerly desires.

FROM CONSTANTINOPLE.

We have been favored with the Moniteur Ottoman, of May 11th, brought by the Henry, Russell. Translated for the New York Daily Advertiser.

It is stated, officically, that, in consequence of the good harmony and perfect accord existing between the Sublime Porte and the Emperor of Russia, his majesty having ordered several divisions of his fleet from the Black Sea, and a fixed number of the land troops to Constantinople, to await the Sultan's orders, two naval divisions, under rear admirals Lazareff and Coumani, had arrived, and also a division under Admiral Hersoffski. These chiefs have orders to proceed where they shall be ordered by His Highness, and not to leave Constantinople until the affairs of Egypt shall be settled agreeably to the Sultan's wishes, who shall also give the orders when they shall return to Russia. These three divisions have all anchored at Buyukdere.

A second corps of land troops have also arrived, and encamped at Undiar Iskelessi. It is, as well as the first, under the command of Lieutenant General Mouravieff.

Particular orders have been given to the authorities for the subsistence of the Russian Troops.—On the 7th of Zilhidje, (April 27th,) the Sultan paid a visit to the Russian Squadron and Camp. On his passage he was twice saluted by a French frigate, in front of the French palace, and once by the Russian ships. On being received by the chiefs and officers, General Mouravieff said to him in Turkish:—

"Sire—Here are, under the eyes of your majesty, eleven battalions of infantry, eight squadrons of cavalry, and thirty six pieces of artillery."

A Turkish battalion of infantry, and regiment of cavalry of the guard, made part of the camp, in special service. These were drawn up on the right of the landing place, and the Russians, in a long line, on the left. As the Sultan approached, one regimental band after another played, and the soldiers saluted him with acclamations as he passed slowly along the line.

He afterwards expressed his gratification to the officers, and retiring to his kiosque, in the paper manufactory, several Russian officers and soldiers were presented to him, &c.

When Rear Admiral Lazareff arrived at Constantinople, he was waited on by Achmet Pacha, military councillor of the palace, and the Captain Pacha; and, a few days, after, the Seraskier gave him a dinner, at his country seat, to which was invited the Russian minister and officers, and the high Turkish authorities.—Admiral Lazareff visited the naval arsenal, on invitation, and was accompanied to all parts by the Captain Pacha. He visited also the Mint, when medals were given to all the Russian Embassage, legation, and officers, struck for the occasion, with His Highness' arms, and on the reverse the sun, and another with His Highness' arms set in jewels, was struck to be sent to the Emperor of Russia.

TURKEY AND PERSIA.

To cement the friendly relations between these two governments, the Schah of Iran has sent to Constantinople an envoy, Zeynel Abidin Khan; who, on invitation, has presented his credentials to the Porte, has transmitted a communication from his sovereign to the Grand Vizier.

M. Deygalliere, professor and director of the school of military surgery, in Constantinople, has died of the grippe. This disease, it is said, has attacked more than half the population of that capital.

M. Deygalliere received peculiar marks of respect, and his funeral presented a scene entirely unprecedented in Constantinople. More than sixty students of the school formed a procession, under the direction of a young officer, also a pupil, who distributed money to the poor on the way, and expressing regret for the loss of M. M. "in the French language." The Musselmen showed much feeling on the occasion, and threw earth upon the coffin.

CAMDEN, (N. J.) August 3.

Important Invention.—Yesterday we were highly gratified, by a view of the Patent Machine, invented and made in this town by our fellow townsmen, Messrs. Gerhard & Vanneman, for the benefit of one of the most useful and necessary classes of mechanics—the Cordwainers. It is constructed on a plan which must conduce greatly to the health, comfort, ease and profit of the operator, who can sit or stand by it, at work, in any position. A person without feet or legs, can perform his task with equal facility as those who have these members, hitherto indispensable in that business. And it is alleged, by one who has been for some days using the machine, that nearly, if not twice, as much work can be performed with, as without it, in a given time.

The machine is to be exhibited, in the Franklin Institute, next week.

The right and the machines will be sold at a price so moderate, that it is believed no Cordwainer will choose to be long without one of them.—National Republican.

The Hon. Alexander Porter, Chief Justice of the State of Louisiana, has been nominated to fill the vacancy in the Senate of the United States, occasioned by the death of the late Senator Johnston.—Poulson.

Commodore Bainbridge.—We are informed (says the Boston Atlas,) that an authentic sketch of the life and gallant deeds of this lamented hero, was written a few years ago, by the Hon. H. A. S. Dearborn, of Roxbury, which is now in possession of some of the Commodore's friends. The circumstances and issue of his gallant achievement in the capture of the British frigate Java, and the signal display of his professional skill and heroic spirit on that occasion, have acquired for his name a distinguished title to that admiration which is the reward of the brave man who devotes his life to the service of his country.—Poulson.

In the recent discussion of the Slavery question, in the British House of Commons, Mr. O'Connell, whom some of our papers are in the habit of glorifying, used this language:

"He would speak of the Americans as those political hypocrites, who, while they talked of the glory of freedom, still unblushingly continued the hateful system of slavery in its most hateful form. He hoped that Great Britain would set the Americans an example of true freedom, and stigmatise their conduct in continuing slavery as tyranny and robbery."

It is stated that the mortality by Cholera in Louisiana, both in town and country, has been greater than in any other part of the Western hemisphere, and that this visitation will have a sensible effect upon the value of property in that State, and lessen both private and public credit.

American Steam Boat.—Some days ago an Englishman was proceeding up the Hudson, and after spending a night of discomfort on board, in the morning was desirous of performing his ablutions. He inquired where he could wash, and was directed to a recess, where he saw basins in use, and rapidly passing from hand to hand. He saw also a looking glass, on one side of which hung a brush by a string, and on the other a comb, which were applied indiscriminately to the 'haffet locks' of the citizens. He was rather disgusted with this strange scene, and despaired of being able to secure a basin before the breakfast bell rang, when at last a passenger, who had just washed, turning round, saw the distress of the said John Bull, and immediately emptied his basin, poured a little pure water into it from the cock, and laying it down on the slab, pointed to it and made a low bow to the Englishman, who thanked the stranger for his civility, and gladly availed himself of it. At breakfast time the Englishman related to a compagnon du voyage what had happened previously, and added—"I see opposite to us the gentleman who behaved so civilly to me, and so unlike the others; I wonder who he can be!" —'Why,' answered his friend, I have just learned that that is the ex-King of Spain, Joseph Bonaparte!—Alexander's Transatlantic Sketches.

From the English Chron. & Whitehall Even. Post.

JUGGERNAUT AND THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.—It is stated, by the Christian Advocate, that "an order has gone out from India for the abolition of the pilgrim tax levied at Juggernaut and other heathen temples." We hope this is true; for never did a civilized, to say nothing of a Christian Government, raise any portion of its revenue from a more objectionable source than that from which "this pilgrim tax" is derived. The fiscal contrivance of Vespasian, to which we need not more particularly allude, was pure itself compared with it. To call it a pilgrim tax is to give it a soft and deceptive name. It is more properly an idol tax, or a tax levied for the promotion of idolatry—and that idolatry the most foul, cruel, obscene, and abominable, that ever disgraced human nature, or brought down curses on the earth.

We have frequently animadverted upon this tax as a scandal and reproach to our Anglo Indian Government, and a great impediment in the way of Indian civilization. The merchant princes of Leadenhall street, however, like the Roman Emperor, whose name we have mentioned, thought the money "smelled as sweet" as any other, notwithstanding the impure source out of which flowed the stream of tributary gold—nay, their sycophants had the consummate effrontery to claim credit to their patrons for the imposition of the idol tax, as something meritorious in the design, and beneficial in the operation. They said, in short, that it was a tax to put down the horrible idolatry of Juggernaut and his kindred demons, the disgusting offspring of bestial superstitution—a superstition of indecent and ferocious rites, and deeply stained with the blood of human victims.

The fact is, the worship of Juggernaut is attended with hideous crimes and gross immorality, which ought to be put down as a matter of police. Advocating, as we do, toleration to every form of religion, however ridiculous in the eye of reason it may be, which does not inculcate the commission of acts of indecency or crime, we hold it to be the duty of every civilized Government to enforce the laws against crimes and indecencies practised in the name of religion, as well as against any other; and, indeed, crimes committed under the sanction of religion, are more pernicious in their example than any other; because their native deformity is disguised in the eyes of those who practise them, by the fictitious sanctity with which fanaticism invests them. Now, whatever is made by a Government, a source of legal revenue, becomes, thereby, legalized; consequently the idol tax legalized the practical acts of homicide committed whenever the car of Juggernaut rolled forth, and, crushing the victims, whom the instigation of abominable priestcraft flung beneath its wheels, smoked with the reeking sacrifice of human life!

If the Anglo Indian Government desired to keep their heathen subjects in the darkest and most groveling state of ignorance and mental debasement, they could not have devised any measure better calculated to effect that purpose than one which went to legalise the atrocities committed at the celebration of the infernal festivities of Juggernaut. But what a wretched policy is that which relies for the stability of its power upon the degradation of the people! And what a fearful load of moral and religious guilt does it not incur! We shall, therefore, be glad to hear that the partnership in unhallowed gain of the East India Government, Juggernaut & Co. has been dissolved completely and for ever!

U. S. District Attorney.—Loud complaints are made against the official conduct of this officer, but with what degree of justice, we are not called upon to decide. The present District Attorney forms but a single illustration of the species of Reform which was introduced by Doctor Jackson, at the commencement of his reign—and the evils which have attended the proscriptive system were foretold at the time. But admonitions and remonstrances upon the subject, were alike in vain. Talents and weight of character, and the most faithful public services, formed not the least claim to attention from the President, or his wiley Attorney in fact. Such a man as JOHN DUER, was therefore recklessly turned out of office, without cause, and Mr. Hamilton appointed in his place. Hear, now, what one of the organs of the administration says of this same executive favorite:

"More vexatious suits have been brought by the present Attorney, than by any of his predecessors. The whole community, or every individual who has any opportunity of knowledge on the subject, will concur with us to the full extent of our remarks. So far as we have had an opportunity of hearing opinions expressed, not a single sober and respectable person has lifted up his voice in favor of James A. Hamilton. Ask any lawyer at our bar with respect to his capacity to fill the office of District Attorney adequately, and your reply will be a smile or a shrug, telling more plainly than could any negative assertion, the low estimation in which that individual's talents and acquirements are held. With regard to the mercinariness of his disposition—his eagerness to bring suits, and the insufficiency of the grounds on which he proceeds, as shown by the great frequency of his failures, may be taken as ample evidence. It is not impossible that we may one day have it in our power, from documents in the Treasury Department, to inform the community how much the United States have paid Mr. Hamilton, for losing the government suits against importers. We venture to say, in reference to this sum alone, that few instances have occurred in this country of such munificent compensation for such slender services."—Evening Post.

Is not this pretty language for a Jackson paper to use, respecting a Jackson favorite—the man who, ad interim, succeeded Henry Clay in the office of Secretary of State—and who was supposed by General Jackson to have written his first inaugural address for him? Truly, things are coming to a very fine pass! There may be a chance for the real author of that inaugural yet.—N. Y. Spec

Upper Canada.—According to a statement in the Upper Canada papers, the population of that province, in 1832, was 260,992. In June, 1833, 296,544.—Increase in 1833, 35,552.—Poulson.

"The Battle of Orleans and the Presidential Proclamation, will in times hereafter be compared with each other, and quoted as measures equally effective in nullifying foreign invaders and domestic conspirators—and all by the same hand."

Indeed, so then Mr. Livingston won the battle of New Orleans!—it must be so, if that battle was won by the same hand that drew up the Proclamation. A federal Proclamation too!—Alb. Dai. Advertiser.

The Albany Daily Advertiser was nearer the truth in its irony, than it probably supposed. Mr. Livingston did win the battle of New Orleans. The facts are substantially these: The plan of the defence of New Orleans, was laid by no less a personage than GENERAL MOREAU, during his visit to that city in 1810. It happened on this wise: Gen. Moreau, the Hon. Edward Livingston, and a French Officer of engineers, were returning from an afternoon's ride in the neighborhood of the city, and passed over the ground that afterwards became the scene of the battle.

With the quick eye of a military man of science, Gen. M. observed the advantages presenting themselves for defensive military operations. Pointing with his hand—"There," said he—"should your city ever be threatened by invasion—there is the proper place for the line of defence." Other conversation as to the details followed—and the ride was ended. Gen. Moreau returned to Europe and fell in the ranks of Napoleon's enemies. The French officer of engineers settled in New Orleans. In process of time New Orleans was invaded. A General of energy, but ignorant of tactics, who had "never set a squadron in the field," was sent to the command.

Mr. Livingston and the French engineer volunteered as the aids of the General—the conversation with Moreau was recollected—and at the instance of these gentlemen, the plan of the defence suggested by the great French commander, was adopted. The result is known.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

The following lines, addressed to Mr. Webster, by a Lady of Cincinnati, are copied from the Cincinnati Chronicle.

New England's noble forest Tree!
In full, unwither'd prime—
Thou spread'st thy lordly branches, free,
The glory of thy clime.

Around thy honor'd, stately brow,
The purest sun beams play,
And sweetly through each sheltering bough,
The heaven born zephyrs stray.

By cold ambition's breath unchill'd,
Thy healthy honors shine,
Soft dews are o'er thy lips distill'd,
Fair flowers thy branches twine.

High lift thy head, majestic Tree!
By Western breezes fann'd—
Smile in the beams that welcome thee,
Pride of our Eastern land—

Long uncorrupted and unbow'd,
By faction's storm unriven—
Tower above envy's darkening cloud,
In the blue depths of heaven.

Extracts from the Review of the Philadelphia Market, ending Saturday evening, August 3, 1833—Collected for the United States Gazette, from Actual Sales.

FLOUR.—The demand for superfine Flour for export continues limited, sales were made, early in the week, at $5 81 1-4 for about 500 barrels—subsequently 900 barrels fresh ground were taken at $5 75, which was the current price the latter part of the week, and at which rate further sales were made; but few sales have been made on the Schuylkill side at $5 75.

NEAR PITTSBURGH,

UNDER the superintendence of WILLIAM B. LACEY, D. D., with arrangements of increased efficiency, will commence it Autumnal Session, on the First Monday in September next.

In the Senior department, Dr. Lacey, with competent Assistants, will hear recitations in Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Chemistry, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Logic, Elements of Criticism, in reference to Language and the Fine Arts, Elocution, Natural Theology, Evidences of Christianity, and Sacred History.

In the Junior Department, Mr. Bryan B. Killikelly, late Vice Principal of a Collegiate School, in the city of New York, will give instructions in Orthography, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography, Botany, Geology, Ancient and Modern History, Rhetoric, and the Latin and Greek languages.

In the Ornamental department, Mrs. Lacey, assisted by accomplished instructors, will give lessons in the French, and Italian languages, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, and Painting, in the style of several of the European, and Oriental Schools, Calisthenics, and the forms and elegancies of polished life.

The price for Board, General Superintendance, Fuel, Candlelight, Pew Rent, access to an extensive Library, instructions in Calesthenics, Orthography, Reading, Writing, Rudiments of Geography, and Arithmetic, and all the varieties of Needle Work, will be $30 per term. To this charge will be added, for instruction in any or in all of the higher branches taught in the Junior department, (except the Latin and Greek languages) $6; or instead thereof, in any or in all the branches of the Senior department, $8; French and Italian, each $3; Music, including the use of the instruments for practice, $13; Drawing, and Painting, $6; Bronzing and Painting, in the Oriental styles, $20. Or, if Parents prefer a more definite arrangement, Dr. Lacey will Board, and Instruct, in any, or in all the branches taught in the Institute, for $200, per annum, per scholar, they paying the amount in advance.

The Principal intends to establish, in the vicinity, and under his own general Superintendance, a school for small boys, where, with his own sons, they will be fitted for entrance into any college in the United States. The charge for board and tuition, in any or in all the branches of a finished English education will be $120 per annum, and for other branches proportionally moderate.

No scholar will be received for a less time than one term; and all bills must be paid one quarter in advance.

Each pupil is required to bring a Bible, Bed, and Bedding, Towels; Table spoon, Tea spoon, Knife and Fork.

Pupils will be permitted to attend any place of public worship their Parents may designate.

The Institute having been in operation four terms, and sustained two public examinations, Dr. Lacey submits, with particular satisfaction, the following spontaneous testimonial of its character, and results from Parents and friends of pupils in the Institute.

Pittsburgh, August 3, 1833.

TO THE REV. W. B. LACEY, D. D.—

Dear Sir—We have been so amply gratified by the late examination of your Female Collegiate Institute, that we feel it equally a pleasure and a duty to express our satisfaction, and to wish you such success in your enterprise as may remunerate you for your large expenditure, and, in some measure, compensate you for the unwearied application of your talents and learning to the cause of Education.

The examination was conducted with such minute and critical severity as served to test, to the utmost, the understanding of the pupils, and the extent of their acquisitions in their varied and interesting studies.

When it is taken into consideration that the number of pupils did not exceed fifty, and that three days were spent, almost without relaxation, in ascertaining their mental and moral improvement, the results must be considered as peculiarly gratifying to their parents and friends, and as reflecting the highest credit upon the Principal of the Institute and those to whom their instruction has been committed.

The examination embraced, in its range, the elementary, as well as the higher branches of elocution, Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Rhetoric, the elements of Moral Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, Astronomy, Algebra, French, Music, and Calesthenic exercises.

In the whole course, whether in those matters that belong to the useful and essential branches, or those that may be termed the accomplishments and refinements of Education, care, attention, and talent, on the part of the instructors, and devotion and industry on the part of the pupils, were obvious. Peculiar interest was excited by the classes that had devoted their attention to Elocution and Rhetoric, by the highest class in French, whose translations from D'Agguessau, Racine, & L'Henriade, were subjects of just commendation; and by the young Ladies who had devoted their attention to Moral Philosophy, whose application of its principles to the Science of Government, and thorough knowledge of the Constitution of the United States, created feelings of mingled surprize and admiration in the bosoms of us all.

The class in Algebra, under the particular charge of Professor Aikin, evinced a knowledge of that most difficult branch of Mathematics, and also of Chemistry and Botany, entitling him and them to high approbation.

The Musical exhibition was extremely satisfactory, as evincing the capability of Mr Rupp, the Musical Professor, in that delightful accomplishment, and the rapid improvement of his pupils.

Without entering further into detail, sir, we express our entire satisfaction with the result of your system, and cannot forbear expressing a wish that the citizens of our wealthy, manufacturing metropolis, and our fellow citizens throughout the western states, who wish to afford to their daughters the benefits of a refined, accomplished, and useful education, at about one third of the expense that such an education would cost them in eastern cities, will confer their patronage upon your Institution. In addition to all the advantages as regards the improvement of mind and manners which an eastern Institution can afford, the location of your Institution, surrounded by scenes of picturesque beauty, with its groves, orchards, and gardens, its springs of pure water, and in the midst of a country which may be emphatically denominated the residence of health, would, of itself, operate as a strong inducement to parents who are disposed to send their children abroad for education to intrust them to your care.

I have been acquainted with the Institute from its commencement. Its pupils have been unusually healthy; indeed, the situation is one of the most salubrious which I know. At the time of the late examination, in a family of upwards of seventy persons, including the pupils, there was not one who was the subject of medical treatment.

PROSPECT HILL
Literary & Scientific Institution.
PITTSBURGH, Pa.

ON the 1st of July, Mr. DANIEL STONE intends opening, near the City of Pittsburgh, an Institution for the instruction of boys. Its plan is to combine, as far as possible, the peculiar advantages of a domestic and public education.—The pupils, with the principal and assistants, will constitute one family, and be at all times under careful supervision. The Discipline will be mild, but strict, such as a father, solicitous for the welfare of his children, would exercise over them. It is believed that an appeal to reason, and the sense of honor and duty, will generally secure obedience. Coercive measures will, therefore, be adopted only in extreme cases.

The Course of Study will embrace the English, Latin, Greek, and French Languages; Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry; Geography and History—Ancient and Modern: Rhetoric, Composition, and Elocution; Natural Philosophy and Chemistry; Penmanship, Orthography, and Reading. Frequent examinations will be held, open to the friends and relations of the youths.

The Mode of Instruction will be thorough and critical, and no subject will be relinquished until fully understood. That the scholar's mind may become vigorous, active, and self-confident—prepared for the stern conflicts of life, and a fearless discharge of its duties, he will be encouraged to reason and decide for himself.

Each student will be required to attend such church as his parent or guardian shall designate.

To preserve health and elasticity of spirits, to check indolence, and promote industry among the students, they will be daily exercised in athletic sports.

Pupils will be admitted between the ages of Six and Sixteen. None can be received for less than one term.

The uniform Dress will consist of a cap, blue roundabout, with metal buttons, and blue pantaloons. Every article of clothing should be marked with the owner's name in full.

The Terms are two hundred dollars a year, payable quarterly in advance. This includes Tuition, Board, Lodging, Washing, Mending, Light, and Fuel.

The Vacations, after the present year, will be three—the 1st, of two weeks, from the 3d Wednesday in April; the 2d, of four weeks, from the 2d Wednesday in August; and one week at Christmas.

The Matron's department will be under the care of Mrs. Reynolds, of this city.

New Theatre, Pittsburgh.

THE Public is respectfully informed, that this ELEGANT NEW THEATRE, at present building, in Fifth Street, will be opened for the Season, under the management of the subscriber, with a Dramatic Company not surpassed by any in the Union, on Monday, the Second of September, 1833.

The building has been substantially erected, by those well known Mechanics, Messrs. Roseburg, Reynolds, Scott, & McCulloch, after a plan drawn by John Haviland, Esq., of Philadelphia, whose justly acquired fame as an Architect will be increased by the style and Beauty of the Present Edifice.

A first rate London Artist has been employed, for the last three months, in preparing the Dresses especially for this Theatre, which, in point of
ELEGANCE AND SPLENDOR,
Will equal, if not surpass those belonging to the Metropolitan Theatres of New York, or Philadelphia.

THE SCENERY
Has been designed and executed by Mr. J. R. Smith, a young Artist of great talent, and whose productions may challenge comparison with those of the most distinguished Scene Painters of the day.

THE MACHINERY
Has been entrusted to the care of Mr. Stafford, late of the Philadelphia Theatres, and the direction of the
MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT
Will be placed under the Superintendence of Mr. Hoffner, of the Chesnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia.

In addition to the exertions of the Regular Company, most of whom are advantageously known in the Eastern Theatres, the Manager has great pride and pleasure in informing the inhabitants of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, that he has engaged, at great expense, the celebrated American Tragedian
MR. E. FORREST,
Who will have the honor of appearing before them at an early period, of which due notice will be given. Negotiations have already been entered into with the most distinguished Performers of the American Stage, who will appear in rapid succession—among others,
MR. & MRS. HILSON,
MISS CLARA FISHER,
MRS. KNIGHT,
MR. J. R. SCOTT,
Also, Mr. PARSLOE, of the Theatre, Covent Garden, London, &c. &c. &c.

In making these arrangements, the subscriber has used every exertion in his power to render THE THEATRE a place of rational amusement---

"To raise the genius and to mend the heart;
Shew Virtue her own features;
Vice her own image;
The age and body of the time, his form and pressure."

And he throws himself confidently on the liberality of the citizens of Pittsburgh for support.

MILL AND CROSS-CUT SAWS.

THE Subscriber has the satisfaction to say to the public, and his friends, that he has connected with his other business, the manufactury of Mill and Cross Cut Saws; and can furnish supplies to merchants and others: he believes them to be equal to any ever used in the western country—the experience of the workmen employed, with the known good qualities of the steel, justifies him in warranting the article to any who may be disposed to patronize western industry.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints. Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in all cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river, where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.

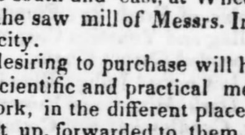
TRAVELLERS.



THE LINE OF STAGES between Chambersburgh and Baltimore, on the Somerset and Mountpleasant route, has been doubled, and now runs DAILY, (Mondays excepted,) leaving Chambersburgh at day-light in the morning, and arriving in Baltimore, early the same evening.

Passengers reach Philadelphia, in this way, the second afternoon, from Chambersburgh, without the loss of any rest; taking the splendid STEAM BOAT LINES, which set out at 6 o'clock in the morning, [via CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL, a work well worth the trip to see.]

REESIDE, Owner.

In all cases where the passengers desire to reach Baltimore in time for the 5 o'clock steam-boat to Philadelphia, they can do so by leaving Chambersburgh at one o'clock in the morning, or immediately after the arrival of the Western Mail Stage. In this way, they arrive in Philadelphia, by eight o'clock the second morning, from Chambersburgh.

☞ When a load offers, the stage will run on Mondays. April 23, 1830.—tf.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
